

Zoom Workshop

“Tips and Tricks” with Keith Leonard

Saturday, October 24th, 2020

12 Noon – 2 PM

We are happy to offer a BAKG Zoom workshop with the renowned finisher who founded Knits All Done, Keith Leonard. Keith, a popular instructor at Vogue Knitting Live and other venues, is also a dyer of his amazing proprietary Yarn Snob Power Balls.

Keith Leonard gained a love for knitting at the early age of 11, when he joined a lunchtime knitting program at his grade school in his hometown of Haworth, New Jersey.

After working at several knitting stores in upstate New York, New Jersey and New York City, he discovered that while knitters love to knit, most don't have the skills, knowledge, and/or desire to do the finishing. So he took a chance and started Knits All Done - a specialized service for knitwear finishing.

Keith now travels the country teaching knitting and knitwear finishing classes at yarn shops, knitting guilds and Vogue Knitting Live events. He also dyes and sells yarn.

Workshop Description: Keith's Tips and Tricks

Is the first stitch of your knitting loose? Do you cast on a new project in both knit and purl? Do you hem the bottom of your knitting? Is your bind-off uneven when knitting in the round? Is there a magical loose bind-off? How much yarn do you need for the long-tail cast on? Why aren't my stitches even? What is the proper way to measure? Should I slip the first stitch of every row? Find the answer to these questions and many more!
